3. SECTION – C 20
CAREER IN LAW EDUCATION

The legal profession in India has undergone a strategic and substantial change over the last few / decades. Now-a-days the law aspirants not only figure themselves ¼ in courts but mark the presence / in various corporate houses, law agencies, law ½ firms, litigation, administrative services and many more. Earlier it / was seen that ¾ the law has become a family profession. The families had been choosing law a 1 profession for // generations. But the scene has changed today, anyone having the 1¼ traits and passion for this field can opt / for the course and could achieve what he has set for.

These days a significant change you can see / and admire among the students. These students soon after their higher secondary schooling, start exploring for the 1½ career / prospects. They are seen more curious and serious towards their career 1¾ choices. It is an old proverb that // an examinee is the best examiner, thereby a 2 student aspiring for any profession knows it accordingly. You only / need to have 2¼ passion, patience and urge, else, everything is dependent on your hard work.

Which / Law Course Should I Choose ? 2½

You can either pick a three-year LLB program or a five-/year integrated BA 2¾ LLB course. If you have qualified 10 + 2 / higher secondary school examination / intermediate // examination or equivalent and have an urge for legal field, you can 3 look in for the five year integrated BA / LLB course. Otherwise if you feel to join it 3¼ after graduation, you can go for the LLB program / after being graduated. 3½

Here is what Dr. Thomas Mahew, Co-Convenor of the Common Law Admission Test (CLAT) / 2014 Committee, shares with you “Bachelor of Law (LLB) is a traditional 3 year long degree // which students can pursue after having completed their Bachelors degree. Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Law (BA / LLB) is an integrated degree for students whose objective is very clear. With this course, student will be/able to focus more. Besides the theoretical knowledge, students are also given practical experience of court.”

What / are the Law exams I need to take ? 4¾

The interested candidates who wish to take up law as career // need to qualify any of the entrance examinations listed below :

CLAT: Common Law Admission Test, commonly known / as CLAT is the national level law entrance exam. You can take this admission test to secure a seat / in any of the 14 National Law Universities (NLU), TNNLS Tiruchirappalli, DSNLU Visakhapatnam, Nirma Ahmedabad etc./

LSAT: Law School Admission Test, commonly known as LSAT is a standardized test of reading and verbal reasoning // skills designed by the USA – based Law School Admission Council (LSAC) for use by law school in India/.

DU LLB / LLM : Faculty of Law, University of Delhi conducts a separate law entrance exam. For / admissions to various law courses namely LLB and LLM courses.
